Welcome To 1968 Topps Baseball Cards

This set consisted of 598 cards and boasted a quite different design scheme. This time Topps went with a speckled beige border about which collector's opinions are split. It may be ugly, but it does do a good job of hiding creases and keeping PSA grades high. This would be the last year before the major league expansion of several new teams and it features some future expansion team members still on their pre-expansion teams. Vital cards from this set include the Johnny Bench, the Nolan Ryan individual rookie card, and the #490 card which depicts Harmon Killebrew, Willie Mays, and Mickey Mantle all in one group shot.

Overall this set is packed with a lot of high powered superstars and there's no card more high powered here than the Nolan Ryan Rookie card. Of course hitters are well represented too with a collection of elite 500 home run club members like Mickey Mantle, Hank Aaron, Willie Mays, Eddie Matthews, Harmon Killebrew, Willie McCovey, Ernie Banks and Frank Robinson. The set also contains some key combination cards and notable cards for Tom Seaver and Rod Carew. The set is definitely not the scarcest Topps 1960's set; it does have a few unique variations including some cards with centering issues.
